Hollywood Film Strike Boss Is Kidnaped, Beaten

MOHAVE, Calif., March 3.—(INS)—Herbert K. Sorrell, Hollywood film strike boss, was being treated today in Ridgecrest hospital for scalp lacerations after having been kidnaped, beaten and thrown from a car on highway 178 near Freeman Junction, north of Mohave.

Sorrell told Kern County deputy sheriffs he was kidnaped in Glendale at 7:15 last night by three men driving a dark sedan. Sorrell said one of the men wore a police officer's uniform and carried handcuffs.

Knocked Unconscious

Sorrell, a 250-pound former prize fighter, said the trio approached him as he stopped at his home after dropping his wife at church. Sorrell quoted the man in the police officer's uniform as saying: "You are under arrest."

Draft Law Will Not Be Extended

(BULLETIN)
WASHINGTON, March 3.—(INS)—President Truman today wrote an end to the draft law which supplied the armed forces with the great bulk of their manpower in World War II.

The chief executive in a message to congress said that he had decided not to recommend an extension of the Selective Service Act which expires on March 31.

Mr. Truman added, however, that

Report U.S. Aid Sought For Greece And Turkey

WASHINGTON, Mar. 4.—(INS)—Senate GOP leaders planned to dispose of their budget-cutting headache today as the State department reportedly prepared a program to be submitted to Congress calling for aid to Greece and probably also to Turkey.

Senators favoring clarification of the British request for U. S. aid to Greece predicted that the slash of four and one-half billion dollars from President Truman's budget would pass the Senate and go to conference late today.

Despite Foreign Developments

This prediction was made despite the foreign developments which some Senate leaders feared might upset their fiscal calculations.

The State department plan reportedly will be presented for approval perhaps within a matter of days and will ask 250 million dollars as the "beginning" of the outlay involved.

The prevailing view among congressional leaders is that only financial aid to help Britain with some of her foreign commitments is involved, and that the sending of American troops to Greece will not be considered.

Action on the budget slash, however, was not expected to be held up despite official silence on the situation and renewed protests from Democratic congressmen that there should be no cut in military expenditures.

British Cabinet To Determine Palestine Move

LONDON, Mar. 3.—(INS)—Britain's cabinet meets today to decide a future course of action in Palestine as a result of week-end violence which caused imposition of martial law.

After discussing the latest reports of the situation in the Holy Land, either Prime Minister Clement Attlee or Colonial Minister Arthur Creech Jones probably will make a statement in the House of Commons.

A government statement is expected since members of parliament will want a new accounting of developments and information on action taken by Palestine authorities.

The direction of Britain's campaign to quell the underground has been left meanwhile in the hands of Lieut. Gen. Sir Alan Cunningham, high commissioner for Palestine.

When recent discussions between Jews and Arabs broke down renewed instructions were given to Gen. Cunningham on procedure to be adopted in the event of further violence.

Because of this all necessary machinery can be put into operation without awaiting instructions from London.

The British press generally endorsed the imposition of martial law in five areas of Palestine.

Report Four-Foot Drifts In Numerous Sections Of County

High Winds Bring Snow Blockades For Second Time This Winter; Heavy Equipment Out

For the second time in three weeks state highway crews are again waging an up hill battle against drifting roads in all sections of the county, Alfred Martin, county highway superintendent, reported today.

Since early this morning, every plow in the department has been out working on the roads where in many sections, snow drifts of four feet in height are giving way to the road crews. The incessant winds are blowing the snow back on the roads soon after the plows have been through, necessitating repeat work by the road workers. All the main roads are open.

Many of the roads are wind swept for considerable distance leaving them clear, while farther on they are entirely blocked by the drifts. As long as the high winds prevail, the plows will be on the highways keeping them open. Very little ashing is necessary as ice occurs in only a few spots.

Some of the county schools were forced to close due to the inability of the buses to get through to bring the pupils to the buildings.

U. S. President Lands In Mexico Shortly Before Eleven O'Clock Today

TRUMAN IS FACING STRENUOUS PROGRAM

By RICHARD ARMSTRONG
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
MEXICO CITY, Mar. 3.—Thousands of cheering Mexicans—jammed behind police lines and crowding rooftops of administrative buildings—welcomed President Truman on his arrival today at Mexico City's central airport.

The famous presidential plane, "Sacred Cow," touched its wheels to the runway at 9:58 a. m. local time (10:38 a. m. EST). Shortly afterward Mr. Truman descended to become the first United States president in office to visit the Mexican capital.

Flanked by brilliantly uniformed guards Mr. Truman advanced to the stand from which President Miguel Aleman had watched the plane's arrival.

Greeted By Mexican President

The Mexican president descended from the stand to greet him. The two shook hands warmly and exchanged brief words of welcome and pleasure.

The entire Mexican cabinet, U. S. Ambassador Walter Thurston, military and naval chiefs and governors of virtually all the Mexican states were present as a welcoming committee.

Aleman escorted President Truman to the nearby tribunal, a flow-

Russia To Allow More American Correspondents

MOSCOW, Mar. 3.—(INS)—The Soviet government agreed today to permit 16 more United States correspondents to enter Russia in addition to the original quota of 20 to report on the forthcoming conference of big four foreign ministers which convenes March 10.

The agreement to permit a total of 36 to enter was reached after U. S. Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith offered to accommodate an increased number of American conference delegates at his own residence.

His action left additional hotel space for newspapermen. The ambassador also pointed out that correspondents were willing to share rooms.

Latest word was that the British quota remains at 20.

Deny British Troops Will Leave Greece

(BULLETIN)
LONDON, Mar. 3.—(INS)—A foreign office spokesman denied today that Britain's appeal for United States aid in Greece included proposals for withdrawal of British troops from the area.

He said Britain "entered these discussions purely with economic and financial aspects in mind."

Although he said there was no "immediate" intention of withdrawing British troops, he refused to discuss whether a reported British decision for gradual withdrawal from the troubled area would be affected by the United States reply.

The British government is reported to have decided to reduce its armed strength in Greece to one brigade, and later to pull out entirely.

He would not comment on the American reply, but said Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin hopes to formulate a reply before he leaves tomorrow for Moscow.

If Bevin is not able to do this, he added, Prime Minister Clement R. Attlee will "carry on."

The London Daily Telegraph reported that the United States has offered to grant Britain a 400 million dollar loan for Greek aid.

Peasants Hysterical At Mt. Etna Eruption

AT THE FOOT OF MT. ETNA, Sicily, Mar. 3.—(INS)—Police had their hands full today calming hysterical Sicilian peasants evacuated from farms and villages on the slopes of erupting Mt. Etna.

In the past day, at least 23 small craters have puffed out of the northeastern slope, and belched flames and glowing lava from the volcano.

The simple countryfolk of the region have despaired at the sight of these new explosions devastating or threatening the fields to which they have given a lifetime of toil.

They attributed the survival of the upper hamlets—Pascio, Pisciaro and Cisterna—to a "miracle." And they are distressed that their prayers have not also saved those fields that now are buried under piling lava.

The lava flow from the original eruption now has slowed to about 15 feet an hour. In some areas it has stopped completely.

But molten lava from the new craters today rolled down the steep slopes at a rate of about 300 feet an hour.

Authorities fear a new danger might arise when these new rivers of flaming lava overtake the slowing progress of the old one.

The ammunition laden "workshop" where bombs and mines were assembled was uncovered in the course of a search for extremists responsible for the weekend series of outrages which caused the British to invoke martial law.

Lawyers Hear Justice Jones

Annual Dinner Event Of Lawrence County Bar Association Occurs Saturday

Labor legislation enacted in the past ten years and the practice of law in a changing world featured discussion at the dinner of the Lawrence County Bar Association Saturday night in the New Castle Country club and the seminar preceding it. Attending were local attorneys and attorneys from Beaver, Butler and Mercer counties.

Justice Charles Alvin Jones of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court was the principal speaker at the dinner. He warned the attorneys that any attempts at the present time to abrogate labor gains, by restrictive legislation was foolish, and said that genuine collective bargaining was impossible without the closed shop. He reminded the crowd that we are in a changing world and "this is no time to kick labor in the teeth."

No Decision In Lewis Case

(BULLETIN)
WASHINGTON, Mar. 3.—(INS)—The Supreme Court today again delayed its ruling in the John L. Lewis contempt case despite concern among government officials over the rapid approach of a new deadline for a work stoppage by 400,000 soft coal miners.

Advance reports had indicated that the momentous decision in the United Mine Workers case would come today. However, the high tribunal sat for only 45 minutes and handed down a handful of relatively minor opinions. It meets again March 10.

Lewis' appeal of his contempt conviction in federal district court has been before the high court for seven weeks.

CLEVELAND, Mar. 3.—(INS)—Cleveland firemen sought to determine today the cause of an explosion which resulted in a spectacular blaze in a 10,000-gallon butane gasoline tank at the Standard Oil company of Ohio Refinery No. 1.

Twenty-one fire companies fought the five-alarm blaze for nearly five hours before the partially filled stabilized tank burned out. A 25-mile-an-hour wind, heavy snow flurries and sub-freezing temperatures hampered the firemen.

Original estimates of the damage, which was confined to one tank, ranged between $7,500 and $10,000.

Stern military law was invoked in the all-Jewish city of Tel Aviv, in the Mea Shearim quarter of Jerusalem, and at Petah Tiquva, Ramat Gan and in the village of Bnei Brak.

The action was Britain's reply to Saturday's series of violent incidents which cost the lives of a score of Britons and brought injury to 26 others.

Assails Action
A spokesman of the Jewish agency angrily charged that the first aim of martial law is to cripple Jewish economy throughout Palestine.

He claimed the British army's search for terrorists was only a secondary aim.

He expressed horror at recent underground violence, saying "these murderous, senseless crimes come as a shock to the entire Jewish community."

He demanded that the underground bring an immediate end to the "shedding of innocent blood which plays no part in the national struggle."

One British soldier was injured seriously and a second was hurt slightly when a military truck in which they were riding was blown up by a land mine south of Hadara last night.

(A Paris dispatch to the London Daily Graphic quoted a spokesman for the military underground Irgun Zva Leumi organizations as declaring the Irgun group is determined to give the British no rest until they clear out of the Holy Land.)

er-decked amphitheater with towers bearing the emblems of United States and Mexican patriots that had been built especially for the occasion.

President Truman was welcomed there by federal district governor Casas Aleman, a cousin of the Mexican president.

He presented Mr. Truman with an official scroll and an especially struck gold medal making him guest of honor in the Mexican capital.

Governor Aleman spoke briefly, praising Mr. Truman for his "friendly feeling toward all nations" and for his "honesty as a statesman, a citizen and an upholder of family life."

Schools Closed
He said the people of Mexico are "free from those prejudices that are obstacles to the democracy to which the peoples of the new world are pledged."

All schools and government offices in Mexico City were closed today, and thousands lined the flag-covered route from the airport to the United States embassy.

President Truman is scheduled to lunch at the embassy. He will be a guest at the home of President Aleman at 5:30 p. m.

At 7:45 p. m., he will meet the diplomatic corps at the national palace, and will be guest of honor at the banquet that will follow.

Leading citizens of Mexico will meet Mr. Truman at a formal reception at the presidential palace at 10 p. m.

was toastmaster of the evening. Attorney Mont L. Alley welcomed the last four members of the bar who served in the armed forces, back to practice.

In the afternoon a seminar on labor legislation was presented by Prof. J. H. Nutting of the University of Pittsburgh. He discussed the changing attitude of legislative bodies to labor legislation, cited specific laws that had been enacted and answered many questions.

An oyster and shrimp bar provided light refreshments after the seminar.

During the war the local bar association abandoned its annual dinners. Saturday night's affair was and was enjoyed by those present. The crowd was reduced in size due to the snow but about 85 attended.

Attorney Merle Hildebrand was general chairman of the dinner and was assisted by a committee of brother barristers.

D. A. R. HEARS TALK ON "ABIGAIL ADAMS"

Dr. Allen C. Morrill, of Geneva College, addressed Lawrence chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution in the coral room of the Castleton Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock on "Abigail Adams", wife of the second president of the United States.

After comprehensive sketching in her background as a member of the Quincy family and her life as a young girl, he dwelt on the part she played in politics as the wife of John Adams. He described her life at the Court of St. James and the extent to which she influenced her husband's public and private life.

Dr. Morrill's own background as a Harvard University man and a residence of some time in the east contributed much of interest to his presentation.

Mrs. Marvin Dinsmore, chairman of the program committee, introduced the speaker.

Regent Mrs. W. W. Campbell presided during business when it was voted to give contributions to the American Red Cross, the Jameson Memorial Hospital Aid society, Y. W. C. A. and Girl Scout campships, and to present a history award for the best essay by a high school senior.

Tea was served from a table decorated with a centerpiece of spring flowers in tones of red, white and blue matched by candles in the same colors.

Miss Marjorie McAnis poured and hostesses were Miss Alma Locke, Miss Belle Offutt, Mrs. G. E. Muffley, Miss Helen Moseley, Mrs. Hazel Wilson, Miss Genevieve Houston, Miss Rose Barber, and Mrs. J. M. Gardner.

Due to the date on which Easter occurs, next meeting has been postponed from April 5 to April 12 when the chapter will give a silver tea for members and guests, the proceeds to go toward a memorial window at Valley Forge.

Mrs. George Beattie, of Cleveland, will be the speaker on "Birthstones and Why We Wear Them".

Small Expectations

An American official, working in London with the Deputy Foreign Ministers, Council, has issued a warning against expecting a German peace treaty to be completed at the conference in Moscow this month. "There has been too much ballyhoo," he says. "The world has been led to expect too much." The foreign ministers will be doing well, he feels, if they complete a pact with Austria and be ought to know. The London meeting struggled hard over these same issues.

But it is to be doubted that the warning is needed or that the ballyhoo about Moscow has fooled the public. Most Americans have seen enough international conferences meet, wrangle and adjourn to have a reasonably fair idea of what can be expected from them.

There is some hope, to be sure, as each meeting begins, that it will turn out to be more fruitful than the last. There is always the chance that the American delegation will be more skillful and successful in negotiating a compromise or that Moscow will be more conciliatory and cooperative.

Few observers, at this late date, will overestimate the chances for success. There have been too many stalemates and blasted hopes in the period since hostilities ended to allow room for undue optimism. After the difficulty the powers had in agreeing in Trieste, no one expects them to make quick work of the vastly more complicated and important German settlement.

Friends Of The Land

Cropland is being wasted in this country by abusing farming methods at the rate of approximately 500,000 acres a year. Approximately 200,000,000 acres on which food, fiber and fat were once produced have eroded away into lean wastes. These acres can be planted to trees and in time restored to usefulness, but their retirement for a generation from the production of food is no credit to the good sense of the American people.

An organization called Friends of the Land has been formed to support government and private campaigns to stop this waste of farm land productivity. A leader in the organization is Louis Bromfield, author, whose restoration of an Ohio farm's fertility has qualified him as an authority on the subject. He acts on the principle that "a nation's greatest wealth is not money or industry, but its natural resources."

At a recent Chicago meeting of Friends of the Land, Chester Davis, president of the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis and national president of Friends of the Land, said that in the St. Louis area soil conservation pays for itself at the rate of $2.20 return for each $1 invested. This appeal to farmers is having a good effect. When shown that good care of their land not only conserves their heritage for their children but pays off quickly in money, they adopt soil conservation practices as a matter of good business as well as good farming.

Portholes For Stantees

Without doubt there have been more epochal inventions than the porthole windows for standees which have been installed in some new buses, but there are few which promise to benefit a larger portion of the human race. There must be tens of millions of men and women who ride to and from work daily on bus lines. At least half of these millions must spend the larger portion of their journeys standing up. Yet, up to now, the designers of buses have done virtually nothing for this immense army of riders. The most they have done for the standees is to put handles on the backs of seats for them to grasp so they will not pitch to the floor at every start and stop. Straps, with which streetcars were equipped, have been eliminated as obsolete.

Of all the numerous inconveniences suffered by the standees, one of the most annoying has been the fact that they have had to travel blind. A man of average height has had no way of discovering how far he has traveled along his route, or whether he is nearing his own corner, without squirming, stooping and poking his nose past other people's startled faces at every other stop.

Why no one before this has been bright enough to conceive the idea of installing windows high enough for the standees to look through is one of the minor mysteries of life. But now that it has been thought of, it is to be hoped that all bus designers will take the hint. And this might be a good time to remind them that people occasionally come in higher sizes than six feet tall and ask if they couldn't raise the ceilings an inch or two.

More Read The Papers

The fact that the circulation of daily newspapers in the United States reached a record high in 1946 is a cause of satisfaction to every newspaperman and should be a matter of pride to every American.

Figures made public by Editor and Publisher, trade publication, show that newspaper circulation last year increased 2,943,317, or 5.2 per cent, over 1945, to an all-time high of 59,927,565 daily. Furthermore, there were more newspapers in 1946 than there were in the previous three years. Daily newspapers published in this country now total 1,763.

The circulation increase is especially remarkable because it took place despite the disappearance of war news. It indicates that Americans are taking more and more interest in the news of domestic affairs and of international developments as they affect their pocketbooks.

It would be hard to minimize the importance of this trend. Interest promotes knowledge, and knowledge begets ideas. The nation can benefit by more of all three.

When television gets to be a common practice we hope they don't televise the fellow who gives the radio commercials. It is bad enough to have to listen to him without seeing him do it.

WASHINGTON CALLING

by MARQUIS CHILDS

Truman Will See Mexican Conditions

WASHINGTON, Mar. 3.—During his three-day visit to Mexico, President Truman will follow a dizzy schedule of dinners, lunches, receptions and other functions burdened with gold and silver and protocol. That is one of the penalties a state visitor inevitably pays. He is so hedged around by officialdom that he has no chance to see the people or to learn what is really happening in the country.

Mexico today is an object lesson in what inflation really means. A visitor from north of the border could learn a lot about how runaway prices intensify the struggle of the average citizen to live.

The ordinary Mexican has always lived close to the borderline of poverty. With the soaring prices of the war years, it has been a desperate struggle to keep body and soul together. A year ago the tension was so great that knowledgeable observers feared some kind of blow-up.

Prices Shoot Up
Since that time, prices have continued to shoot up. The official cost-of-living index computed by the Bank of Mexico was 313 for December of 1946, with 1929, a year of high prices, representing 100. By January of this year, it dropped back a little to 311.9. But in February it is believed prices again began to climb.

This over-all figure does not indicate the intensity of the squeeze being put on the poor who comes to town with his burro to buy a few beans and some land. The over-all figures include items which never come into the poor's budget, and those items have not risen nearly as much as the cost of food, which is just about the whole story for the hewers of wood and drawers of water making up more than three-fourths of Mexico's population.

The index on food stood at 353.3 for December of 1946, and in January of this year it moved up a point. A further increase will be shown for February, it is expected. A year ago, the food price index was 298.5, with 100 represented by the 1929 level.

Plight of Mexicans
The plight of the average Mexican comes home even closer when you see what has happened to actual food prices. In 1941, beans cost 30 cents. In 1946, the price was just five times that much, or 1 peso and 50 cents. An equivalent change in this country would be if bread had gone from 10 cents to 50 cents a loaf in the same period. The price of land has gone from 1.40 to 6.50 and corn has advanced from 15 cents to 55 cents. Now the poor has taken it as long as he has is something of a mystery to those who are now working earnestly on measures to get the economy into some kind of balance.

The glittering boom that began with the spending of war millions mostly from the United States is still going strong. An astonishing number of luxury apartments have

The Parent Problem

ANSWER CHILD'S QUESTIONS

Our eldest son is now the father of three children, seven, five and three, respectively. When he was a baby and very young child, I took voluminous notes on his development. Before me are the notes I recorded on the question he asked. His mother and I always tried to answer all his questions as well as we were able. We never treated any question as funny. I have noticed that this child now answers his own children in the same sympathetic way. (My new bulletin, "Letting Little Children Learn" may be had in a stamped envelope by writing to me at 235 East 45th street, New York City, N. Y.)

As any parent knows, we constantly had to refer to books and experts and other sources and frequently confess our ignorance. An easy way, of course, is just to say, "I don't know." I must have done so habitually with my youngest boy when he was five, for he said one day, "Daddy, you don't seem to know anything." After that I tried to do better.

Earliest Questions
The baby's earliest questions may be a mere gesture or grunt. Let me

AT THE CIRCUS
Grandpa at the circus sits
With the children and admits
Both in sorrow and in shame,
That he has no right to fame.

As they watch an acrobat,
He is asked: "Can you do that?"
Can you swing on a trapeze?
Hanging, head down by your knees?

Can you dangle by your teeth
With no safety net beneath?
Can you go into a cage
Where the roaring lions rage?

Can you walk upon a wire,
Somersault through hoops of fire?
Can you ride a single wheel?
Did you ever train a seal?

"No!" I answer girl and lad
And it makes me very sad
Then this question all to crown:
"Have you ever been a clown?"

"Many times," I then reply
With a twinkle in my eye.
"Without spangles or renown, Grandpa's often been a clown!"

We are being invited to step from the frying pan into Greece. . . Someone has got the United States confused with the United Nations.

That pits John Bull against John Lewis and may the better John win. Britain has great confidence in us. . . They think we can straighten out things in Greece when we can't even get straight in Georgia.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Every time I read in the paper about two nations considering or signing a "friendship pact" I know that all is not well between those nations.

Real friendship needs no pacts. People are friends because they like one another, because they have a lot in common, because they trust one another.

You have friends. What would you think if a friend came to you and said: "Let us sign a friendship pact?" You'd immediately suspect ulterior motives. You would become suspicious of the person, and there can be no friendship if there is suspicion.

What do these friendship pacts contain? They contain clauses that the signers won't fight with each other, that they won't steal from each other, that they will live together in peace and harmony.

Usually these pacts are good for a certain number of years. That means that after the contract has expired the friendship is off and has to be renewed. If that isn't a lot of hokum, then I don't know the meaning of the word hokum.

Q. I recently reinstated my NSLI policy in the middle of the month, on January 15, to be exact, and was told that my next monthly premium would be due February 1. Is that correct?

A. If your original NSLI policy became effective on the first of the month, that is the date on which premiums are regularly due, regardless of whatever date it was that you reinstated your lapsed policy. In reinstating your policy on January 15, you were, in effect, reinstating it as of January 1.

Q. I am a disabled veteran undergoing rehabilitation training under Public Law 16, but it appears now that I may have to go to a hospital for several weeks. If I go to a VA hospital, or any other hospital, will I continue to receive my disability pension or my subsistence allowance?

A. Your disability compensation (pension) will not be affected by hospitalization, and your subsistence payments may also continue for a time. For information as to the amount of sick leave to which you are entitled, it is suggested that you contact your VA training officer.

Q. I want to reinstate my G. I. life insurance policy, but I neglected to do so before the January 31 deadline. Am I supposed to go to my own physician for the required physical examination, or are these examinations handled by a VA doctor?

A. The liberalized provisions for reinstatement of lapsed NSLI policies have now been extended to August 1, 1947, and until then, no physical examination is required. All you have to do is submit a signed statement to the VA certifying that your state of health is as good as on the date the policy lapsed. If you are carrying term insurance, you need pay only two monthly premiums, but for converted, all premiums in arrears must be paid.

Q. What will happen to my subsistence payment from the government if I fail one of the four subjects I'm taking in college?

A. The Veterans Administration will not reduce the subsistence allowance of a veteran because he fails in one subject unless the school itself takes some action against the veteran. Generally, the Veterans Administration follows the policy of the school in taking action against students, and in most institutions, if a student fails in a subject, he is given an opportunity to make up that work. Ordinarily, if the school is willing to have the veteran continue his classes, the Veterans Administration will not discontinue or reduce his subsistence.

Q. I want to apply for a government-guaranteed loan but I have lost my discharge papers. What should I do?

A. You should apply for a certificate in lieu of the discharge papers from the branch of the service from which you were discharged. You should then present this certificate to the local lending agency that you have chosen to make the loan.

YOUTH AND CRIME

There are two discouraging factors in the American picture today.

One is the report of FBI Director Hoover on the subject of youth and crime.

The other is the tendency of our young people toward alien political ideologies.

Mr. Hoover reports a slight decline in the number of arrests of boys and girls under eighteen years, compared with the war-time peak. But the figure remains about one-tenth higher than in 1941.

Inquiries by patriotic organizations disclose that radicalism is being fostered among American youth through underground activities of Communists and fellow travelers. This inclination toward the tactics of the Reds has been manifest during the past year by numerous "strikes" of students by participation of school boys and girls in picketing and radical parades.

The crime problem—including juvenile delinquency—is primarily a home problem. Sadly it must be confessed that the American home, in general, is not what it used to be. This is partly due to changed conditions; whereas, the home once was the main center of social life and entertainment, the automobile and the movies have made home life almost obsolete. There was a time also when the church was the center of cultural life, along with the community school; when wholesome pleasures and beneficial contacts were the order of the day.

Another factor missing from home life these modern days is work. In times past each boy and girl had certain tasks that had to be performed and certain responsibilities to meet as members of the household. Today the young person who contributes anything to the labors of the home is a rarity. There was an essence of self-discipline in milking cows, hoeing potatoes, chopping wood, washing dishes, helping with the cooking, canning and house-cleaning.

The major part of youth's waking hours today is spent anywhere but at home. Ready-made amusements, ready-made sports, joy-riding, petting and dance halls make up the daily and nightly schedule. Our schools, with the best of intentions, coddle our boys and girls by providing them everything. There was a time when a group of lads who wanted to play football or baseball saved up their small earnings and bought their own equipment. A lad who wanted to join a band managed to buy his own instrument. Social events paid their own way. A good share of the enjoyment of any good thing comes from paying one's share.

Much of our ready-made entertainment, it must be confessed, is anything but inspiring. The movies are tainted with sex or sensationalism or gangsterism or morbidity. The radio programs run an inane, domestic triangles, shooting affairs and supernatural thrills. The jukebox blasts its trade in and out of season. The results are nerve-frazzling and degenerating. Sometimes thoughtful persons must wonder that our generations retains as much balance as it does.

One logical result of coddling and restlessness is discontent with the established order, envy of the successful, contempt for the thrifty and an inclination to look for the short cuts to ease and pleasure. The trend toward radicalism springs largely from these sources, as well as resort to crime, either as a means of getting something for nothing or to provide thrills for over-wrought nervous systems.

Because youthful crime and youthful radicalism are both in great measure home problems, the matters are extremely difficult to deal with by legislative means. Good homes and good parents cannot be made by law. What we need is a renewed appreciation of the sanctity of marriage, a freshened conception of wholesome domestic life, sincere appeal to the idealism latent in all boys and girls.

It may be old-fashioned and reactionary to suggest it, but isn't it possible that the one means to restore sound parentage, worthy homes and a return to enjoyment of the real things of life is through a revival of genuine religion?

The Ten Commandments are old-fashioned and the Sermon on the Mount seems far in the background. But there are no better foundations for happy homes and wholesome youth.

Congress Battle Over Budget Regarded As Warmup
Wherry Fight Vs. Lilienthal May Win Him Helm
Housing Construction Decontrol Is Issue

(Special to Central Press)
WASHINGTON, March 3.—Bitter though it is, the battle in Congress over the budget actually is only a warm-up. It will set the pace for fights to come over the tax reduction and individual appropriation bills.

The legislative budget resolution, when finally adopted, and calling probably for a cut of between four and half and six billion dollars in President Truman's spending program, will have no binding effect.

But it will act as a powerful psychological lever for cuts in individual appropriation bills as they are called up and passed, and it will spur Republicans in both Houses in the demand for a 20 per cent slash in personal income taxes.

Administration spokesmen contend that the legislative budget, required by the 1946 congressional reorganization act, has become a fiasco in its first year of trial, that it is being used by the Republicans as a political football.

Democrats charge that Republicans are jamming through Congress a "paper" budget cut merely to justify passage of a tax reduction bill which they know will be vetoed. They accuse the GOP of attempting to throw on the president the onus of thwarting tax reductions and economies.

However, there is undoubtedly a strong demand in Congress for reductions in government expenditures and observers of the unbiased kind believe that this is at least as potent a factor as political motives.

Fulfillment of the ambition of Senator Kenneth S. Wherry (R) of Nebraska to become majority leader may hinge on the outcome of his fight against confirmation of David Lilienthal as Atomic Energy commission chairman.

Wherry makes no secret of his desire to stop the rise of Mr. Lilienthal as majority leader. Mr. Lilienthal's issue presented a natural opportunity for Wherry to demonstrate his ability.

If Wherry can swing to his side a sufficient number of Republicans who lean toward confirmation of Lilienthal, he will have a solid argument as to why he should take over White's front seat in the Senate.

Housing officials are divided over the question of removing rent control, but the clamorous of decontrol appear to have the edge.

Views Of The News

By J. C. OESTREICHER

The possibility of a British commonwealth revival of spirit which almost overnight might transform bleak crisis into a flaming torch of future hope arose in the wake of Britain's decision to abandon Greece.

On every hand—in Washington, in the British press, on the radio and on speaking platforms throughout England—there were dismal reports and dire predictions.

England, supposedly unconquerable, was pictured on the verge of ruin and destruction. The empire as described to school-children for centuries past with one lion's foot in China, another in India, and both forepaws straddling the Atlantic Ocean was seen to be passing away.

Egypt, India, Palestine, the Sudan, India—all were to slip from the solidity of the stone of some that lies beneath the coronation chair in Westminster Abbey.

And yet all these disconsolate forebodings of Britain's future somehow overlooked the blunt fact that the empire as such came to an end long ago and that it is only the commonwealth of nations united under the crown that exists at present.

The whole full story of Britain's crisis after many years of bloody warfare, strict rationing, industrial unrest and government mismanagement is still to be told. It is difficult for any regime in power to own up to shortcomings; it is difficult indeed for the average Englishman to admit that he needs anything from anyone else.

When poor military planning, a fantastic shortage of needed materials and traitorous defection by French generalship necessitated the tragic evacuation of Dunkirk, Britain for the first time in her history went down on bended knee.

The response was immediate.

The colonies and the Dominions as well as the United States—the later in her every capacity short of war—went to her assistance and the day was saved. It will not be soon forgotten how an Australian sheep-rancher with a personal fortune of 60 million dollars turned up on the beach as a private soldier.

His first action was to ridicule the be-moocled commanding general by flapping a silver half-crown and out of his own right eye. But he emerged as one of the heroes of that epochal chapter in history.

In peacetime it is not easy for any nation or any government to dramatize its hardships. This is not so hard to do when war is raging and when people from one end of the world to the other realize that their lives, their fortunes or their mere well-being are at stake.

So it is perfectly possible that in Canada, in Australia and in South Africa where the Royal family continues with its sedate tour, the proximity of the home islands to disaster is not too well recognized. If and when London can project her grave and growing needs to the dominions "beyond the seas" a sweeping upsurge of assistance and encouragement may engulf England in a wave of hope.

Recent Lawrence Co. Visitors In Florida

By JAS. P. CALDWELL
ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 27.—Among recent arrivals from New Castle are Lawrence County Treasurer and Mrs. Frank W. Hill and daughter, Ruth Anna, State Property Supervisor and Mrs. E. O. Reed, Dr. and Mrs. Earl Henderson, Tully Morella, and Villena James, who is employed in the county treasurer's office.

Dr. and Mrs. Henderson had been over on the East Coast hobnobbing with Dr. and Mrs. McDowell and only remained here a few days, during which the doctor made a diagnosis of the green benches under the careful supervision of Mrs. Henderson. Finding the occupants getting along "as well as could be expected" in view of the rather unusually cold weather which we have been having, they returned to the East Coast to rejoin the McDowells.

The Hills and Reeds came down together but had to separate when they got here as they could not find rooms together. Hills finally secured rooms with Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Smith, formerly of Bessemer. Reeds went over to Tampa and got into a hotel. They drive over to St. Petersburg every day. Ed and Frank are delighted with the town but don't like the cigars as they put tobacco into them down here.

One of the events in their honor, also in honor of George Washington, was a little party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Gilmore, former North Beaver citizens, February 22. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Dale Clark, formerly of East Washington street, Mr. and Mrs. James McCord, formerly of Mt. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Kean, Enon, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Mayberry, Highland avenue, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gilmore and family, North Beaver, Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Hill and daughter, Ruth Anna, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Smith, formerly of Bessemer, Francis M. Davis, former county commissioner, of Wampum, and Miss Olive Davis. County commissioner, Frank Hill, was chosen speaker and told about the hardships he and Washington had endured at Valley Forge and of later having visited the tomb of Washington at Mt. Vernon.

Frank and the Reeds will leave for home in a few days. Mrs. Hill and daughter, Ruth Anna, will remain here until the latter part of April in the hope that the climate may prove beneficial to Ruth Anna's health.

The weather has been something to brag about until three weeks ago, when the cold winds began to come down from the blizzard up north. There has been no frost here but the weather has given the green benches a chance to show their winter togs. Straw hats are temporarily in hiding, and the daughters of Neptune and beach lizards are sadly in need of baths. It is warming up now and green bench activities will soon be in full swing again. While writing this, have just learned that Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Thompson have just bought property here. Mrs. Thompson is the former Mrs. Urey, of New Castle. Mrs. Elsie Nessel, of Wallace avenue, and her cousin, Mrs. Eva Buchanan, left for home today.

WHEN GIRL VISITS MAN'S HOMETOWN

"I am in love with a girl who lives about one hundred miles from my home. We are not yet engaged, have known each other for only two months. During that time I have been going to see her, staying at her home. Since I should like her to meet my friends here, would it be correct for her to come here occasionally staying at a hotel for a week-end? If so, how much of her expenses (hotel, meals and train fare) should I assume? We are both in our late twenties."

Answer: Of course, it is the man's place always to pursue woman. So you should, especially during the early stages of your courtship, go to see her in her home and not expect her to come here to visit, risking the possibility of her friends and yours accusing her of "running after you."

When your love affair is on a more permanent basis, there is no reason why she should not come here to visit you and meet your family and friends.

If you live with your parents or possibly with a married sister where she might be comfortable and "protected from gossip" invite her to stay in your home. If you have no suitable home in which to entertain her and since you are both of a responsible age, you may arrange for her to stay at a hotel, you assuming all of her expenses, including railroad fare. Young girls should not travel on such a mission, unaccompanied by an older member of their family.

Question: For the sake of those who do not realize they are wrong, please correctly pronounce: (1) coupon, (2) adult, (3) secretive, (4) culinary, (5) municipal, (6) acclimate.
Answer: (1) koo-pon (2) a-DULT (3) se-CRE-tive (4) mu-NIC-i-pal (5) ac-CLIM-ate.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly mail personal replies to questions from readers inclosing stamped, self-addressed envelopes.

MEAT AND MILK

Protein is a very important substance in our food. There are vegetable proteins and animal proteins.

There is much yet to be learned about proteins. Animal proteins seem to be made use of by the body better than vegetable proteins.

Meat and milk are good providers of protein. If vegetables are eaten with meat or milk or eggs the two kinds of protein seem to combine.

The body seems to be able to use the combination better than if the vegetables are eaten alone.

Children need a good supply of protein as materials for growth.

Protein has other uses besides serving as building material.

Old people need a good supply of protein too.

You may be old some day if you live long enough.

W. C. T. U. AND L. T. L.

W. C. T. U. Executive Board

Executive board of Lawrence County W. C. T. U. assembled Thursday evening in the Y.W.C.A. with a large attendance. Mrs. Scott Munnell led devotions.

Mrs. F. J. Fox, county president, presided. Mrs. Floyd Thompson, institute director, gave an outline of the program for the Bi-County institute that will take place Thursday, March 27, in the First Methodist church, Sharon. Mrs. Gladys McConnell was appointed to fill the vacancy in the temperance and missions department caused by the resignation of Mrs. Pearl Byers as director.

Mrs. J. A. Book, director of legislation and citizenship, gave a talk about the bills that are now up for consideration. Every housewife should write her Congressman, telling him that she wants sugar rationing continued until the shortage is over and asking him that more sugar be allotted to housewives and less to brewers. Lifting of rationing will probably mean more sugar for brewers and less for housewives.

The Capper bill S. 265 and the Pace bill H. R. 142 should be supported by all Christian people. The W. C. T. U. is opposed to any further liberalization of Sunday laws in the state. Several bills that affect Sunday in Pennsylvania have been introduced in the present session of the state legislature. Citizens should write their local Representatives and Senators expressing their opinions on these bills. This is the W. C. T. U.'s part in the battle to help keep the Christian standards of our state high.

Mrs. Book also told of the Field Day for the Federated Moral Forces of the state to take place Tuesday, March 25, in the Fifth Street Methodist church, Harrisburg. The Governor and his cabinet, the Senate and House members have been invited to a luncheon at noon. There will be a forum discussion on "Legislation" and a talk by Dr. Charles E. Ellis of Huntington, Pa.

Mrs. Fox announced that all Lawrence County W. C. T. U.'s are invited to attend the revival meeting Friday evening, March 7, in the First Methodist church, this city. This meeting will be of special interest to all W. C. T. U. women. Prayer offered by Mrs. A. C. Brown, of New Wilmington, closed the session.

How much LIGHT is enough to read a newspaper?

It's good to settle down with your favorite newspaper when you have better lighting at your elbow for easier, smoother seeing.

Under modern lighting you'll be seeing more and seeing faster without straining your eyes or inviting fatigue. And eye comfort is important. For reading or writing . . . wherever eyes are called on to see quickly and surely . . . try a three-light lamp that brings you 100-200-300-watt lighting in a single bulb.

You owe it to your eyes to find out about better lighting NOW.

Continued Cold Hurts Industry In Gas Shortage

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 3.—(INS)—Prospects for continued cold today dimmed hopes of approximately 350 industrial plants for early relief from the natural gas shortage in the Pittsburgh district.

Spokesmen for three major gas companies reported there would be no change in gas supplies to commercial users. Thousands of workers were idled when production units were forced to close down because of lack of gas supplies.

The Peoples Natural Gas company reported it was allowing industrial customers 40 per cent of their normal allotment. The Manufacturers Light and Heat company allotted 25 per cent of normal to 150 firms and the Equitable Gas company continued to enforce a 100 per cent curtailment to approximately 100 customers.

Truck Driver Killed In Crash

Burned To Death In Highway Mishap Near East Palestine, Ohio

EAST PALESTINE, Ohio, March 3.—A man, identified by state highway patrolmen, as Hurley Allen, 30, of Canton, was burned to death Sunday, when he was trapped in the flaming wreckage of his semi-trailer truck on State Highway No. 14, near here.

His body was charred beyond recognition, but identification was established through a registration card.

The truck, owned by the A & A trucking company of Canton, was en route to Pittsburgh with a shipment of automobile tires, air compressors and other merchandise valued at $10,000.

Police said the truck apparently swerved from the highway, overturned in a ditch and ignited when the gasoline tank burst. The property loss was estimated at $15,000.

Tax Payments In Final Two Weeks

Income Tax Payers Reminded That Returns Must Be Made By March 15

Income taxpayers were reminded today by G. A. Funkhouser, division chief, in charge of the division office of the collector of internal revenue, 201 Post Office building, that they have but two more weeks in which to file their return for 1946 and make payment.

Every person who had a gross income of $500 or more in 1946, must file a return on form 1040, or if the income was wages or commissions, subject to withholding tax, and was less than $5,000, the return may be filed on the wage statement form W-2, given the person by his employer.

In the case of husband and wife, where each had an income, the total may be filed as a joint return, especially if one spouse's income is less than $500. If each spouse files an individual return, he or she may automatically claim their own personal exemption of $500 and the other spouse is not permitted to take any credit, other than their own. Executors, administrators and trust officers, responsible for an estate having a gross income of $500 or more, and trust funds having a gross income of $100 or more, are required to file a return form on form 1040.

Partnership income and expense should be reported on form 1065. Taxpayers are advised that the local revenue office is open Monday through Friday from 8:30 a. m. to 5 p. m., and on Saturday, March 15, will be open from 8:30 a. m. to 12 midnight.

Taxes may be paid at the local office in cash or by money order or check by presenting their form and payment to the teller-cashier in the division office. Receipts will be given for cash payments.

pass along a few notes. The number at the beginning of each note indicates the day of the baby's life when he asked the question.

317—"Looked at coveted but forbidden books on table, then at mother, but made no attempt to take the books. The look was a question."

523—"Mama?" (said after she had been absent three hours).

557—"I Dad, Dad?" (What is that?)—as he pointed to my eyes, head, hand, then to parts of his own body.

665—"Where Mama go?"

1010—"Who made the pond? I guess (guess) Papa did. Will it rain on the fish in the pond?"

1022—"What that?" asked 41 times of different things. "Going to mail that letter? What is skin? What are you talking about? Who put the tail on the fish?"

1033—"Where all that water come from?"

1035—"What this day?"

1050—"What next day?"

1098—"Is Ben a boy? Is Jane a girl?"

1121—"Where you was when this house was built? Why that fish have a tail?"

1125—"Who put the moon up there? Who put the clouds in the sky?"

1131—"Does it hurt the doll to put pins into her?"

How Peaches Grow

1150—"Asked of peaches, 'How do they grow? Do the fish drink water?'"

1156—"Why no ships on the brook? What makes the fire go out?"

1162—"What makes the rainbow? When is tomorrow?"

1186—"Why don't you have three hands? How does it get cold in the house?"

1296—"Why does it get night?"

1305—"Who is Jesus? How do they make moons so nice and round?"

1372—"Where was I when you a little girl?"

1415—"Where is God? How did the strawberries get red?"

1424—"How does the rain get to the sky?"

You observe a gradual development in the quality of question as this child grew older. Notice that "what" appeared long before "why". I wish I might prevail on young parents to record in sequence the questions of their child and to begin to do so before the youngster is a year or so of age. It is fun. It gives one a lot of insight. It helps one gain appreciation of the youngster's gradual development. Certainly every parent should answer the child's question as kindly and accurately as possible, never supposing anything this child asks is funny but taking all his inquiries seriously.

gone up in Mexico City, and they are still going up. In the suburbs houses for the new rich are being built, beginning at about 40,000 pesos, or roughly $8,000. This would be equivalent to about a $25,000 house in this country.

There are some low-cost housing projects, including developments begun by industries to house their own workers. But for the most part the building is in the luxury bracket, infinitely remote from the incomes of the great mass of Mexicans.

Tourists Flock to Mexico

American tourists are flocking to Mexico this winter. Hotels in the capital and in the leading resorts are said to be entirely reserved months in advance. This constant inflow of American dollars has a decided influence on Mexico's boom-time economy.

In the administration of President Miguel Aleman, some officials are working hard to straighten out the tangles that inflation has caused in Mexico's economy. They will talk to President Truman, during his visit, about help that they hope to get from the United States, including possibly a loan which would be used in an effort to stabilize prices.

We have in the United States can hardly offer a shining example of how to prevent inflation. Commodity prices have been skyrocketing again, and that upward climb will soon be reflected in the prices the housewife pays at the grocery store. This is bound to create new difficulties as the wage-earner is caught in the wage-price squeeze.

In the United States, as in Mexico, what goes up must come down. The higher the skyrocket shoots into the air, the more dizzy is the fall and the harder the bump at the end.

International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Mar. 3.—(INS)—Up to day your reporter always had regarded a kiss as just a kiss. It's not exactly a new thing. It probably started about the time Eve tossed the apple to Adam, and Adam, just to raise a little Cain, batted it out into deep center field.

In undertaking an academic discussion of the subject at hand, namely love-making, your reporter fully realizes he could not qualify in any court of law as an expert. What little experience he has had has been strictly minor league. Neither has he ever had the benefit of any advice on his technique. He was always sure there were no witnesses.

All this, of course, was in the dim and distant past. As your reporter became more adult, he took up golf as a diversion. It may not be as spine-tingling, particularly in the sand traps, but it doesn't keep you awake at nights thinking about it.

The fine points of love-making were the last things in your reporter's mind when he drove out to Universal to see the very beautiful Joan Bennett working in "The Secret Behind The Door." Your reporter had hoped for a few minutes' conversation with Miss Bennett. He didn't get it.

She was in the middle of a love scene with the handsome English star, Michael Redgrave, under the direction of Fritz Lang, known in the trade as a stickler for perfection.

thought she should be doing something with her hands. Your reporter had a ghastly thought. He wondered if at any time—in the dim and distant past—his kissing had been so dull that the object of his affections had taken time out to brush the dandruff off his collar.

Director Lang had no such prosaic thought. He decided while Miss Bennett had her head pressed against Redgrave's chest she should run her hands up and down his arms, probably to denote the length and depth of her affection.

Two stars tried it that way, but Director Lang again shook his head vigorously.

"You step aside, Joan," he said, "and I'll show you."

Fritz, being six inches taller than Joan, had considerable difficulty laying his head on Redgrave's chest, even though the English star is a towering six feet, four, but he finally succeeded. Redgrave looked slightly embarrassed, but he and Joan finally got the idea of how love should be made, at least on a sound stage.

St. David's Day
Well Observed

Hundred And Seventy-Five Attend Dinner Event On Saturday Night

GRIFF THOMAS IS CHIEF SPEAKER

In traditional song and story, St. David's Day was observed in New Castle Saturday night, March 1, when the two lodges of the American True Ivorites held a dinner in the dining room of the Epworth Methodist church. Toastmaster was City Councilman D. O. Davies.

Griff Thomas, the principal speaker, delivered an interesting address upon early Welsh history, more particularly the vicar of St. David's, who was canonized over ten centuries ago. Drawing a parallel from St. David's life the speaker said the challenge of today's world called for the same qualities of courage and Godliness if the world was to be kept safe for freedom and decency.

Other Speakers

Several extemporaneous speakers were heard, among them National President of the Gymana Gany Association Henry T. Jones, William Pritchard, who today celebrates his ninetieth birthday, Ivor V. Davis, Louis B. Round and County Commissioner Joseph P. Travers, and Grand Secretary of the Ivorites, Daniel Hughes. Mrs. Ernest Trehanne, grand president, was presented with red roses.

Two soloists were heard, Mrs. Beatrice McNicholas and David W. Rees. Mr. Rees also directed the group singing, with Mrs. John M. Evans at the piano.

Mrs. Griff Thomas, general chairman of the evening, opened the dinner with the invocation and introduced the toastmaster. The meeting closed with the singing of Hen Wlad Fynad, the Welsh national anthem and the Star Spangled Banner.

About 175 attended the dinner, a highly successful affair.

Charge Housewife
Killed Baby Son

EUREKA, Cal., March 3.—(INS)—Formal charges of murder were on file today against a 22-year-old Eureka housewife, accused of killing her 23-day-old baby son.

Police Chief Basil Gregory said that Mrs. Helen Matajich confessed that she fatally beat the baby because his crying "annoyed" her.

Previously, she blamed the murder on an ex-sailor whom she said was the father of the boy.

Chief Gregory said Mrs. Matajich confessed seizing the baby by the arm and leg and banging it against the side of the crib. She then admitted inflicting injuries on herself to bolster her story that she was first knocked unconscious by the baby's assailant.

Police said that her confession completely cleared the ex-sailor, Dee Perry, formerly stationed in St. Cloud, Fla., of any implication in the case. Perry now lives in Troy, Pa.

Engineer Killed Near Freeport: Three More Cars Derailed East Of Gallitzin

PITTSBURGH, March 3.—(INS)—Three Pennsylvania railroad trains were involved in accidents within the last 24 hours, killing an engineer and injuring a fireman, railroad officials announced today in Pittsburgh.

Engineer W. T. Dixon, of Blairsville, was killed and Fireman Robert A. Albright, 27, of Pittsburgh, was injured, when their freight train crashed into a standing freight last night near Freeport.

Railroad officials reported that three cars of an Altoona-bound freight were derailed last night four miles east of Gallitzin, near the scene of the wreck of the Red Arrow where 24 persons were killed two weeks ago. No one was injured in the derailment but four tracks were blocked temporarily, it was reported.

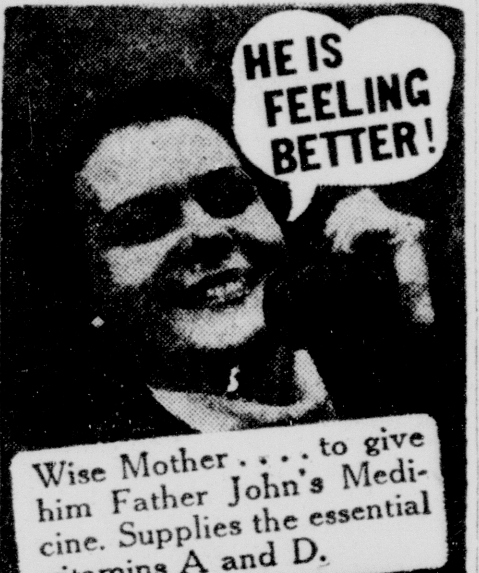

A Cleveland to Pittsburgh flyer was halted when it lost a "pony" wheel near Leesdale in the third accident, officials said. Passengers were transferred to another train and brought to Pittsburgh, they added.

Large Crowd At City Revival

First Methodist Church
Packed To Capacity For Service Sunday Evening

SHIFT PROGRAM TO CATHEDRAL TONIGHT

All available space in the First Methodist church auditorium and Sunday school annex was taken Sunday evening when an estimated audience of 1500 New Castle and Lawrence county people turned out to attend the city-wide revival campaign in progress at the church on North Jefferson street.

Twenty minutes before the service got under way, the auditorium was filled with several hundred sitting in the Sunday school room auditorium and class rooms that opened off the massive auditorium. Forrest Schickedanz, song leader and soloist led the vast audience in and old time revival song service. Mrs. V. E. Smith and Mrs. Harry Gettings presided at the twin pianos adding much to the musical program.

The Smitty girls quintet from Minneapolis, who were incapacitated earlier in the day due to severe colds, recovered sufficiently to effectively sing several selections which were very well received by the audience. The large choir under the direction of Mr. Schickedanz, pleased the congregation.

Speaks Against Sin
Dr. Wells, who has been delivering forceful, clear addresses during each night of the campaign against sin, spoke with old time fervor as he turned to the Psalms for his text of the evening, using the eleventh verse, "God judgeth the righteous and God is angry with the wicked every day." Admonishing his listeners to turn from sin, Dr. Wells asked those not right with God to do as the Philippian jailer did crying out, "What must I do to be saved?"

Sunday afternoon the large attentive audience heard a straightforward address on "How to Be Born Twice" in which Dr. Wells clearly stated that "except a man be born again he cannot see the Kingdom of Heaven." In both afternoon and evening services many turned to Christ as they found their way to the inquiry room.

Moves To Cathedral
Tonight, the First Methodist church will be dark, while the service is transferred to the Scottish Rite Cathedral where Sunday school night will be observed. A special section will be roped off for each Sunday school in the city, with a prize to be offered to three Sunday schools who have the largest percentage of their enrollment present during the service.

This evening at 7:30 Dr. Wells will show a colored motion picture film and will follow it by an address on "Heaven." The Smitty girls quintet and a special 250 voice choir will be heard during the program. Tuesday evening the revival services will be resumed at the First Methodist church, with many special features to be a part of the program including several delegations from churches of the city.

Robert Zarilla Heads His Class At Navy School

Word has been received here that Robert W. Zarilla, seaman 2-c, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Zarilla, 838 Beckford street, has placed first in a class of 29 at the fire control school at Great Lakes, Ill. Seaman Zarilla enlisted in the navy June 12, 1946, after graduation from senior high school. He compiled a 90 average during the course to take the top honors.

An Army-Navy merger should logically lead to something stupendous in the way of high brass—possibly a general-admiral with two chests, to hold the ribbons.—Omaha World Herald.

Dinner Tuesday To Launch Red Cross Campaign

Miss Louisa Farrand Of National Headquarters Will Address Cathedral Meeting

LOUISA FARRAND

The meeting Tuesday night at the Cathedral opening the Red Cross campaign promises to be one of the best campaign meetings ever held here. Sponsored by the Kiwanis club, it has been thrown open to other service clubs, women's clubs and the public at large, as well as the Red Cross workers themselves. Reservations for the dinner can still be made by calling the Red Cross chapter house on Beaver street. Most of the service clubs have dispensed with their regular meetings this week and are making this dinner their regular meeting in order to promote the Red Cross campaign.

Louisa Farrand Speaker

The speaker is Miss Louisa Farrand of the public relations staff of National Red Cross headquarters. She is an excellent speaker with a charming personality, and her broad Red Cross experience equips her admirably for presenting an interesting and inspirational talk. She was one of the few women club directors in the Red Cross and spent four months in charge of the Antwerp area, constantly under enemy bombardment. She served in the European theater for 42 months, and was awarded the bronze star for her work in Belgium.

Miss Farrand is not a stranger to New Castle, having spoken at a meeting of the Red Cross board about a year ago. She was invited back because of the fine impression she made at that time.

A large number of workers and local citizens are expected at the meeting, which is in effect the real kick-off for the local Red Cross drive.

District representative and general chairman, Wm. G. Kennedy, of the Beaver County Unit of Lawrence Caravan and district representatives, Howard W. Smart, Adolph J. Pietnick, Thomas M. Phillis, of Beaver Falls; Thomas G. Bishop, George M. Nippert, of New Brighton; Walter A. Gordon, C. Melvin Haney, of Rochester; Erskine E. Harton, of Beaver; Burton D. Brubaker, of Monaca; Herbert O. Mengel, of Freedom; B. Scott McFarland, of Ambridge; William J. Fowler, Ralph J. Bishop, of Aliquippa; and A. This party is a stag affair and all Nobles must have their fee and a dinner ticket to present at the door of the Palace Inn, Route 68, 3 miles east of New Brighton, Pa., the evening of the party.

Report Deer Plays Traffic Cop On Highway Here

Apparently realizing that deer season is a thing of the past, a buck played "traffic cop" at the intersection of the Harbor road and New Wilmington highway at midnight Saturday night.

An auto operated by Willis Bates of 2212 North Mercer street drew up to the intersection.

The buck apparently didn't mind the auto and stood in the middle of the road, but when Bates got out, the buck walked around the car and left.

Six deer were also seen yesterday in the hollow between Lee avenue and Calvert street.

Entire Staff Of Teachers Resigns After Dispute

LORAIN, O., Mar. 3.—(INS)—The entire teaching staff of 23 teachers at the Clearview school, two miles south of Lorain, resigned today following a dispute over the slapping of a high school pupil.

T. C. Simpson, superintendent of the combined elementary and high school, announced the mass resignations during an assembly called for the purpose of restoring harmony between teachers and 398 pupils.

Simpson broke in while Chandler Thompson, president of the Clearview school board, was attempting to address the students amid the heckling and catcalls by the older pupils.

"You children seem determined to take over," Simpson said, "so here is your school. All of the teachers have just resigned."

Last Thursday the 237 high school students went on a strike after one of them had been slapped by a teacher. They stayed away from classes through Friday and a meeting of parents, teachers, pupils and the school board was held yesterday.

The assembly meeting was called for this morning.

The students were sent home following Simpson's announcement and the school doors were locked.

Expect Primary Next September

Legislative Action Taken To Move Primary From June This Year

OTHER NEWS OF COURT HOUSE

Those ladies and gentlemen who expect to be on the ballot in the June primary this year will probably have to wait until September for their chance to vote. The bill setting the primary back to Tuesday, September 9, is on Governor James H. Duff's desk ready for his signature and there seems little question but that it will be signed.

If and when it is signed the primary will be back where it was before the war. During the war it was advanced to June in order to permit sufficient time for men and women in far off places in military service to vote.

So now, instead of having politics only until June and then a recess for a few months it looks as though we would have it all summer and fall.

PIG NUMBERS TO RISE, BUT SHORTAGE EXISTS

Forecasts for the spring pig crop indicate a slight increase over the spring of 1946, but the gains will not be great enough to meet anticipated needs on the basis of the best available reports.

For this reason, hog raisers should make every possible effort to rear to market age as large a percentage of the spring pig crop as possible. Give them every chance and keep them free from disease and parasites.

Tilting floors in farrowing pens 1 1/2 inches to the foot with a low guard rail around the sides of the pens helps prevent loss of pigs from being laid upon by the sows.

Small, weak pigs go to the lower side of the pen and huddle under the guard rail, and can readily do their feeding as the sows lie down with their backs uphill.

Number Of Vets In Hospitals At An All-Time High

Non-Service Connected Cases Drop During February, However, VA Officials Report

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 3—The number of veterans undergoing hospital treatment throughout the United States reached an all-time high of 119,845 last month, while the number of non-service-connected cases on VA hospital waiting lists dropped to 22,385, the lowest figure since March, 1946.

Veterans Administration officials in Washington attributed this to the increased number of beds available in VA hospitals and homes and to a more rapid turn-over of patients because of improved medical treatment.

In this area, the VA hospital at Aspinwall last week reported a total of 888 patients and a current waiting list of about 400 veterans, all non-emergency cases. With a normal turn-over of about 15 patients a day, the hospital is scheduling admissions of non-emergency cases over a period of two months, to allow a required number of beds each day for emergency use, or for veterans with service-connected disorders.

The new Deshon VA hospital at Butler reported 575 patients on February 1, and it was disclosed that more than 2,000 patients had been admitted for treatment there in the five months the hospital has been in operation by the VA.

Although the total capacity of Deshon hospital is 1,000 beds, it was reported last week that it, too, now has a waiting list, not because of space limitations, however, but because additional patients cannot be received until the present medical staff is increased.

Westminster Closes Home Season With 68-54 Victory Over Tech

Jones Stars As Titans Register Twentieth Win

Fred Paine Given Great Ovation In Final Home Game, Dembinski Takes Scoring Lead

BATTLE GENEVA TUESDAY EVENING

(Special To The News) NEW WILLIAMSTON, Mar. 3.—Westminster College said farewell to the Titans and Freddy Paine Saturday night in the closing home game of the season, as the Blue and White closed with a 68-54 victory over the Carnegie Tech quintet.

It was the twentieth win of the season against three defeats. "Chuckling Chet" Dembinski played for a total of 324 and put him back at the top of the scoring heap in the Tri-State three points above Schauss of West Virginia, with 321.

Paine Given Ovation Prior to the start of the game Freddy Paine, the Titans great guard, from Holidays Cove, West Virginia, and Student Manager Dick Downing, both seniors, were given a tremendous ovation. Paine has been a real mainstay of the Titans for the past four years, being tall and aggressive and a dead-eye shot.

Westminster grabbed a 18 to 7 lead in the first period and at the half led 43 to 14. Coach Grover Washbaugh used his reserves in the third period and Tech outscored the Titans 23 to 8 to make it 51 to 37 as the third period ended. With the regulars back in the fourth period, the score mounted with both teams tallying 17 points.

Play Geneva Tuesday It was the second Westminster win this season over the Tech team, the previous score at Pittsburgh being 76 to 46. Westminster will battle Geneva Tuesday evening at the Beaver Falls High floor, and hope to ring up their 21st win of the season. The Titans will end their regular collegiate season at W. & J. on March 8th.

Theodore and Clougherty led the Techies in scoring Saturday with 28 of the points between them. Don Heddeston played his customary fine game for Westminster getting 11 points. Paine in his final home effort had six points. Bill McMillan, who has been ailing was used but little by Washbaugh. The Titans had 14 men in the game.

Despite the severe snow-storm Saturday evening the Westminster gym was packed for the game as a tribute to Paine and Downing. Thus Westminster has ended another terrific home campaign unbeaten, since back in 1943.

High School All-Star Team Has Smoothness, Potent Scoring Punch

All-County Scholastic Selections Would Be "Dream Team" For Any Cage Coach

Selection of an all-county high school cage team this season was a tough chore—the 11 schools of the county were at high tide in regards to talent and making the final lineup entailed considerable "boiling down and talks with many coaches around the class "A" and "B" circuits.

Final selections were based on the players' "team value", his scoring ability and his record under fire in crucial games. To make the first team a player had to have an athlete's biggest asset consistency and ability to keep fighting regardless of his team's standing in the league.

The "All-Stars" pack scoring punch, great ball-handling prowess and if welded into a unit, would be a coach's dream come true. It is not intended to slight any player—the final selections were made after thoughtful study of records, watching them perform in action and questioning players and coaches who opposed them.

The forwards picked were Don Black of New Castle and Bill Emery of Mt. Jackson.

Black proved himself one of the peskiest players in Section III during the past campaign. His flaming will to win, dead-end shooting and tricky ball-handling stamped him as one of the best to ever wear the colors of the school. He averaged 11 points per game in a tough league, and led for the section's total point honors during the season. A junior, he has one more year of competition in class "A" ball.

Emery Sensational The sensational freshman, hasn't hit his stride yet—but if he hasn't he is close to going so. This six-footer burned up the Section XXI courts with a dazzling display of cage antics during the season, and was probably without peer as a hoop marksman with the "Mounties".

Despite the fact his team was labeled "non-league" due to coaching technicality, "Wild William" refused to quit or take it easy and played to the hilt down to the final game.

Madrid-Kanagy Guards Pint-sized Paul Madrid of Bessemer and Dave Kanagy of Wampum are the sure selections.

Madrid, called the "Squirrel" because of his quick action on the floor, was the play-maker of the second-place Bessemer team in Section 21. One of the smoothest ball-handlers in the county, he was cool and collected all through the season, setting up scoring plays and getting 138 tallies himself from all angles of the floor. He concluded his play this year.

Dave Kanagy, Wampum's great player, was versatility himself this campaign. He has been placed at a guard post, and that is where he started with the Indians. This campaign however he played a while at center and then was switched to a forward post. Imperturbable on the floor, a great shot and an un-canny ball-hawk, he made his senior year his best, sparking his team to the Section XXI crown. He is the only repeater from last year's team.

Mayberry Is Center To Shenango high's six foot, three inch star, Don Mayberry, goes the center spot on the team.

Big Don was more than the class "B" loop's leading scorer this campaign. Although he parted the nets for 269 points to run away with the honors in this respect, he was also highly valuable as a defensive standout and team player.

He was at the bottom of every scramble for the ball, was tops in grabbing rebounds and feeding from the pivot. His height aided his passing and "under the basket" scoring and made him "Mr. Center" for the season.

Following is a list of players given honorable mention for their play during the season:

Forwards: Spears (New Castle), George and K. Jones (Princeton), Hammerschmidt (Plaingrove), Rotunno (Union), Hartwell (New Wilmington), D. Smith, East Brook, Badger (Wampum), Anderson and Martin (Bessemer), Johns (Shenango), D. O'Hara (Ellwood).

Guards: Watters (New Castle), Cochran (Shenango), E. O'Hara (Ellwood), Procopio (Wampum), Butler (Mt. Jackson), R. Jones (Princeton), Glass (Bessemer), Conti (Union), Buchanan (New Wilmington), McNulty (Plaingrove), Patterson (East Brook).

Centers: Tonya (Bessemer), Rea (New Castle), Bader (Mt. Jackson), Graham (New Wilmington), Pilshaw (Union), Jackson (Wampum).

The Cowmadow coached Elks from New Castle led 18 to 15 in the first period and at halftime 24 to 19. The locals piled in 32 points in the two final periods to but 19 for the Ellwoods. Hudson with 15 points was the Ellwood star. Adams drew 13. Vince Kelly also played a fine game for the locals, getting 10 points.

FALCONS DEFEAT ECCLESIASTAS AGAIN BY DECISIVE SCORE

Paced by the veterans Tom Carey and George "Pop" Adams the Polish Falcons Sunday at The Arena floor made it two in a row over a scrappy Ecclesiast Club quintet by winning decisively 43 to 34 by spurning in the final minute and a half.

It was simply a matter of a good big ball team being too good for a small but aggressive quintet. The Falcons with their height advantage controlled the ball for the most part off the bankboards and that is a prime requisite of basketball as it is played today.

The Falcons proved that lightning can strike twice in the same place but had more of a tussle yesterday than the previous Sunday when the score was 52 to 35.

Adams-Carey Shine Adams and Carey, both old timers, had 13 points apiece for the Falcons, with Eddie "Cash" Koszella adding 10 points and playing a fine floor game. Sammy Calza and Lindy Lauro had eight points apiece to star for the losers.

It was a close hard-fought game all the way until the final minute and a half when the Falcons leading 36 to 34 turned on the heat and Adams and Carey started popping them in, along with Ray Owoc, a sub.

The crowd was well pleased with the battle and gave the quints much encouragement with their applause and yelling.

Howard Pollet Signs Contract

Cardinal Star Quits Holdout Ranks,
Stan Musial Only Big Holdout

ST. LOUIS, Mar. 3.—(INS)—Sam Breadon, president of the St. Louis Cardinals, announced Saturday that southpaw pitcher Howard Pollet has signed a one-year contract.

Pollet, winner of 21 games last season when the Cards won the National league pennant and the World Series, is expected to leave his Houston, Tex., home for the club's spring training camp at St. Petersburg, Fla.

Before signing, Pollet had rejected three contracts offered by Breadon. There is now only one Cardinal regular still holding out.

He is Stan Musial, first baseman and the National league's most valuable player in 1946. Musial is reportedly seeking a $50,000 salary for this year.

Braves-Phillies May Swing Trade

CLEARWATER, Fla., Mar. 1.—(INS)—There was something in the wind involving the Phillies and the Boston Braves, but whatever it is, Blue Jay Manager Ben Chapman isn't saying.

Chapman, in refusing to take a telephone call from Fort Lauderdale, explained:

"That's the third call I've had from Billy Southworth, manager of the Boston Braves, in two days. He wants something, and I know what it is, but I'm not answering."

Ben is sort of peeved at the Braves, pointing out that they made him "sweat plenty" last year when he needed material, but now he holds the upper hand.

"All I can say is that I've talked to our General Manager Herb Pennock on the phone, and that there is something stirring," he said. He hinted it might involve a trade.

TRADING QUIET IN TODAY'S MARKET

NEW YORK, March 3.—(INS)—

Fractions to a point were lopped from stocks in quiet forenoon trading today.

Chrysler sagged near noon, losing more than a point to below 97. General Motors held its decline to a small fraction. Bethlehem dipped a point and U. S. Steel about 1-2 point. Du Pont lost about a point. Eastman Kodak wiped out a loss of over a point.

A block of 24,500 shares of Tide-water Associated Oil crossed the tape at 18 5-8, unchanged. Other oils eased slightly. Rails were relatively steady, aided by the eastern roads' plea for higher passenger fares. Norfolk & Western rose a large fraction.
